10. Risk of Capture Program

At today's Staff Meeting Mr. Lundahl described a briefing on the subject of Risk of Capture which is currently being given at several offices at Langley by a [redacted] Mr. Lundahl said that in view of the number of personnel that we have travelling overseas, that there may be a need for this briefing here at NPIC. He asked TSSG to look into this matter.

(5/8) REVIEWED

1. I called [redacted] and was informed he does not give this Risk-of Capture (ROC) briefing. I then learned the following from [redacted]

2. Some time ago [redacted] charged the Office of Security with the task of putting together a ROC briefing. Each Directorate was asked to send a representative to hear the "trial" presentation and to evaluate it. [redacted] was the DDI representative. He thought it very worth while and reported this to the DDI. [redacted] said all attendees shared [redacted] feeling and as a result a committee has been appointed to refine, broaden, etc. the trial presentation and come up with recommendations such as:

- a. How long should the briefing be? Two hours. One day. One week.
- b. Should there be a series of briefings of varying degrees of thoroughness, each tailored to meet a different need?
- c. Should such a briefing be mandatory for all PCS? For all TDY? Only for certain geographical area?
- d. Etc.

3. According to Van, there is at present no established ROC briefing program in existence.

4. I think if we become especially concerned about a particular trip for one of our people, we could arrange a series of briefings (CS Branch or desk, Office of Security, CI Staff, etc.).
